Ryan Simmons

Leadership and a focus on operational excellence is what drives Ryan Simmons in his position as the vice-president of operations for EllisDon Corporation in Southwestern Ontario. With more than 20 years of experience as a professional in the construction industry, Ryan is responsible for the overall execution of EllisDon's projects, including staffing, training, and risk management.

With extensive experience in hospital construction and complex projects, Ryan brings an intense but energetic and engaging approach to his work. Confronted with myriad problems for which he must find solutions, as well as staff and labour relation matters that must be handled in a time sensitive fashion, Ryan is right at home at Canada's largest construction service company, all while maintaining a great sense of humour.

Recognized as the top academic student each year while graduating from the Construction Engineering Technology Program at Fanshawe College, Ryan is also a Certified Engineering Technologist (C.E.T), a LEED AP accredited professional, and is Gold Seal Certified (GSC) by the Canadian Construction Association.

Ryan lives in the London, Ontario area with his wife and four children; he does not sleep. Outside of work and family obligations, Ryan plays tennis as one of his favourite ways to workout.

Game, Set, Match. Simmons.
